REPORTS AND BUDGET UPDATES BY THE CITY MANAGER

Mayor Gallego invited City Manager Jeff Barton to provide an update.

Mr. Barton stated staff would soon introduce the FY 2023-24 budget adoption process, starting with the release of the Citywide Inventory of Programs on Feb. 2. He will return to the Council on Feb. 21 and March 21 to discuss the General Fund Status and Five-Year Forecast and the City Manager's Trial Budget, respectively.

DISCUSSION AND POSSIBLE ACTION (ITEM 1)1 Update on Yellow Light Timing Study*Discussion

Mayor Gallego invited Deputy City Manager Mario Paniagua to speak.

Mr. Paniagua gave an update on the Yellow Light Timing Study that staff is conducting to evaluate whether lengthening their timing could reduce red-light running incidents at signalized intersections and improve safety.

Mr. Paniagua introduced Street Transportation Director Kini Knudson, Assistant Street Transportation Director Briana Velez, and Principal Traffic Engineer at Stanley Consultants Natalie Carrick.

Mr. Knudson spoke about a recent study by the American Automobile Association and the Insurance Institute of Highway Safety that showed red-light running accidents resulted in more than two fatalities per day across the U.S. and 113 deaths in the metro Phoenix area between 2014 and 2020. Mr. Knudson also discussed the current signal light timing practices, standard procedures, and the impact of Phoenix's population growth on traffic flow at signalized intersections.

Ms. Carrick stated in 2020, the Institute of Transportation Engineers (ITE) issued key guideline recommendations on yellow change and red clearance intervals for signalized intersections. The new ITE guidelines included the following using actual driver speeds to calculate yellow and red timing, extending timing calculations for left-turn yellow lights, and relying on engineering judgment or process.

Councilwoman Pastor asked whether the City could adjust traffic lights based on traffic congestion for signalized intersections.

Mr. Knudson responded some signalized intersections with modern equipment can adjust traffic light signals based on the traffic approaching the intersection.

Councilwoman Pastor commented the City is changing the current signal light timing guidelines and requested staff to provide Council with the timeline to modernize all traffic signals.

Councilman Waring asked about the cost of modernizing the City's signalized intersections to maintain signal timing consistency.

Mr. Knudson replied that the City has 1,200 signalized intersections, and replacement cost would be between $400 to $500 each.

Councilman Waring asked if staff could synchronize the City's signalized intersections or main arteries based on traffic flow.

Mr. Knudson responded yes.

Ms. Velez discussed the City's study in partnership with the University of Arizona. The objective of the study is to evaluate the ITE timing guidelines from yellow change and red-light clearance intervals, identifying the relationship between signal timing changes and driver's behaviors, and determining whether the new ITE's suggestions on yellow change and red clearance intervals could enhance the safety of signalized intersections. Ms. Velez stated the study's preliminary results showed a 50 percent reduction in red-light running when implementing the new ITE guidelines.

Councilwoman Stark acknowledged Councilman DiCiccio for his leadership on this issue. She mentioned another study the City was partaking in. She asked if staff would consider implementing the outcome of the current yellow timing study if it shows potential to reduce red-running violations regardless of the other study.

Mr. Knudson answered yes.

Councilwoman Stark commented on ways of influencing driver behavior through enforcement. She added that putting police motor officers at some of the crash-prone intersections could help reduce red-light running and increase safety awareness.

Mr. Knudson noted that staff was conducting an adaptive traffic signal study using motor officers at different intersections. He stated staff has observed a drop in red-light running incidents in areas included in this pilot study.

Councilwoman Stark left the meeting at 3:30 p.m.

Councilman DiCiccio commented on the safety of longer yellow lights and different approaches other municipalities use to driving patterns, driver behavior, and expectations. He added he found no disadvantages to extending the time a traffic light stays yellow before turning red.

Councilwoman O'Brien noted the current study is designed for 12 weeks and asked how long it would take to complete a more comprehensive study.

Mr. Knudson responded it would take at least 12 months.

Councilwoman O'Brien asked if the City could expand the study to include the 100 most dangerous intersections in Phoenix as labeled by MAG.

Mr. Knudson answered staff would need to review existing infrastructure at those intersections to examine the feasibility of extending the study and to include them.

Councilwoman Pastor stated the baseline data at one of the study locations showed that 88 percent of red-light running incidents occurred during the all red phase and 11 percent after the all red period. She asked if there was something the City was doing to address these violations.

Mr. Knudson responded this was the first interaction Phoenix drivers had with the extended yellow light times. Staff intends to complete the current study, analyze the results, and come back to City Council for direction.

Councilwoman Guardado commented on the Traffic Signal Yellow Timing Study, emphasizing an urgency to reduce red-light running practices on some of the City's riskiest signalized intersections.

Vice Mayor Ansari asked for clarification on the direction staff needs from Council regarding the scope of the current traffic field study and extending it beyond the original 12-week timeline.

Mr. Knudson replied the current scope was to evaluate the study's results in mid-February, when the study ends, and to come back to City Council with a detailed report and analysis of the outcome.

Vice Mayor Ansari asked if the scope of the current 12-week study could continue as initially planned while developing additional sites from MAG's list of dangerous intersections by crashes.

Mr. Knudson answered yes.

Councilwoman Pastor stated the 12-week study is separate from the additional proposed sites. She added staff could continue with the current study's scope and timeframe while exploring the feasibility of extending the study to other crash-prone intersections.

Councilwoman O'Brien asked Mr. Knudson if police enforcement was involved in a red-light running at one of the study's intersections.

Mr. Knudson answered yes but it was not one of the 12 intersections used for the current study.

Councilwoman O'Brien asked if staff would discount red-light running reductions resulting in police enforcement compliance with traffic signals at one of the current or future study intersections.

Mr. Knudson responded yes.

Mayor Gallego asked about the total cost of the current study.

Mr. Knudson replied the total cost of the current study is approximately $300,000.

Councilwoman Pastor questioned if existing appropriated funds for Street Transportation that have not been absorbed could be reallocated to expand the study to additional crash-prone intersections.

Mr. Barton stated forecasting shows revenues are not coming in as projected, as the Arizona Highway User Revenue appears to be under duress. He added the City would only advocate cutting or reducing programs and services if staff could evaluate their impact.

Mr. Knudson recalled Council recently allocated $10 million to Street Transportation Road Safety Action Plan. He stated staff could reallocate some of that funding towards the expansion of the study.

Public Comment

Jim Farley stated his disagreement with the Street Transportation Department's definition of yellow light change interval duration.

Councilman DiCiccio made a motion to proceed with the current study and to also extend the study to the most dangerous intersections in Phoenix taken from the Maricopa Association of Governments (MAG) list of top 100 intersections by crash risk, as long as the existing infrastructure supports it, using additional time as needed, and staying within the Street Transportation Department's budget.

Councilwoman Guardado seconded the motion. The motion carried by the following vote:

Yes: 7 - Councilman Sal DiCiccio, Councilwoman Betty Guardado, Councilwoman Ann O'Brien, Councilwoman Laura Pastor, Councilman Jim Waring, Vice Mayor Yassamin Ansari, and Mayor Kate Gallego.

No: 0 -

Absent: 2 - Councilmember Carlos Garcia and Councilwoman Debra Stark

ADJOURN

Subject: POST-CENSUS GROUP QUARTERS REVIEW UPDATE – MARCH 3, 2023

Since the fall of 2022, the City Manager's Office of Innovation has worked with Bloomberg Associates (BA) on an appeal of a portion of the 2020 Census, specifically the Group Quarters (GQ) Operation. The United States Census Bureau has acknowledged that GQs were likely undercounted in the 2020 Census and responded by creating the Post-Census Group Quarters Review (PCGQR) Program, which is a new, one-time operation for government units to request that the U.S. Census Bureau review the population counts of group quarters they believe were not correctly counted as of April 1, 2020. The Census Bureau defines GQs as places where people live or stay in a group living arrangement, such as care facilities and correctional institutions. The City submitted the formal request on Feb. 28, 2023, which has been acknowledged as received by the U.S. Census Bureau.

While the City experienced an approximate 11 percent increase in population in the 2020 Census over the 2010 Census, BA recommended that the City explore the potential for a review request. The City's project team worked with BA to conduct online research, data analysis, graphic information systems (GIS) mapping, site visits and quality control reviews resulting in the collection of evidence that suggests at least 192 GQs located in Census blocks that recorded zero GQs were potentially missed in the 2020 Census GQ Operation, representing a population of 3,550 people residing in those GQs on or about April 1, 2020.

The value of the PCGQR exercise is that each person counted in the City's census data is worth thousands of dollars in state and federal funds delivered to the City, and an upward adjustment will bring additional funding to the City during the next seven to eight years. Collectively, this appeal could render millions to the City in state and federal allocations for the remainder of the decade.

BA is tracking other cities/jurisdictions that have filed a PCGQR appeal and has noted that a number of cities have had successful results, including the inclusion of correctional facility populations that were missed. This process also provides a legacy value to the City for having undertaken the PCGQR review. The information submitted and corrected by this PCGQR review creates a solid foundation for the 2030 Census as it relates to GQs, enabling the City to embark on a fuller and more accurate count.

Weekly Community Spread Benchmark Report

This report provides City Council with an update regarding the status of the current community spread benchmark indicators tracked by the City of Phoenix related to COVID-19 as requested at the Dec. 2, 2020 Formal Meeting. This information represents the latest data released by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) on March 2, 2023.

Summary

The Maricopa County Department of Public Health has transitioned from Community Transmission Risk indicators to the new CDC Community Level reporting, which reports at the County level and are rated as Low, Medium or High. The weekly report now follows the CDC Community Level reporting.

The CDC Community Level is determined by the higher of the inpatient beds and new admissions indicators, based on the current level of new cases per 100,000 in the past seven days. Please note that, in the event New Cases per 100,000 exceeds 200, the community level can be no lower than Medium, regardless of the inpatient bed use or hospital admissions per 100,000.

The attached memo (Attachment A) provides an indicator dashboard of the CDC Community Level for Maricopa County. The current CDC Community Level for Maricopa County is Low. Please note that the classification of Medium spread for the week of Feb. 23, 2023 was determined from processing a backlog of COVID-19 cases from 2022. The CDC uses report date for their dashboard and calculation. However, Maricopa County Department of Public Health uses collection date for their reporting. As a result, Maricopa County is still considered to be Low at this time.

Beginning January 1, 2024, municipalities and other taxing jurisdictions would have been prohibited from levying a transaction privilege, use, or other similar tax or fee on the business of renting or leasing residential property. Some exceptions. By January 1, 2024, the landlord of real property that is rented or leased for residential purposes and that is located in a municipality or other taxing jurisdiction that levies a transaction privilege tax on the business of renting or leasing residential property would have been required to reduce the amount of rent due by an amount equal to the difference caused by the elimination of the transaction privilege tax on the business of renting or leasing residential property. The Arizona Department of Revenue would have been required to electronically notify each residential rental transaction privilege tax licensee of these provisions. From January 1, 2024 through June 30, 2025, the State Treasurer would have been required to distribute proportionately for each month $14,945,600 from the portion of the revenues derived from transaction privilege taxes that is not designated as the distribution base to the municipalities that levied a transaction privilege tax on renting or leasing real property for residential purposes during FY2021-22, based on the average amount that the municipality collected from that tax during FY2021-22. Also, municipalities would have been required to use monies paid from revenues collected from a remote seller in the retail transaction privilege tax classification and paid to the municipality as state shared revenue for public safety before any other municipal purpose. Would have applied to tax periods beginning January 1, 2024 and after. AS VETOED BY GOVERNOR. In her veto message, the Governor stated that lowering

Comments:

1. Alex Hills proposed using $1 million from Contingencies to provide funding for shelters in communities. Mr. Hills wondered why there was no funding budgeted for Mitigation and Care for Vulnerable Populations and advocated for more money to be allocated to solutions for the City's homeless population. (Jan 31. Report)
2. Michael Kelly proposed shifting allocated Police dollars to specialists in quality-of-life, homelessness, drug addiction, and domestic violence. Mr. Kelly also proposed that public transit be free and to increase the number of buses available. (Jan 31. Report)
3. Fred Frost proposed reducing the Police budget, specifically equipment, and to use the funds to focus on community crime issues that residents care about. (Jan 31. Report)
4. Vanessa Palacios proposed less funding for Police and more funding for communities. Ms. Palacios would like to see more funding to address the water crisis and for water education to help with water waste issues. Ms. Palacios would also like to see more programs for composting and to decrease the dependence on plastic.

Comments:

1. Melanie Cameron supported Library funding for online services and in-person children’s services, as well as Human Services funding for rehabilitation and work skills programs for those experiencing homelessness. Ms. Cameron wanted to ensure that Arts and Culture funding would be used for public art, not political agendas, and felt that historical monuments should never be removed. She also stated the Phoenix Convention Center should be self-funded and opposed funding for electric vehicles and rental properties. (Jan. 31 Report)
